The conversation, on one card. Print double-sided. Front is how to run it, back is what you record. Carry it in. The full questions are in `2027-2028-launch-pad-first-cohort-conversation-v0.1.md` §3.3; this is what you hold while you are in the room.

Learner _____ Date _____ Second adult _____

Say this first, out loud, once

> "Pass is always allowed. Skip anything. Nothing is owed."

Say it once at the start so it does not have to be repeated into every question.

The shape

Arrival. Sit, eat, no agenda for a few minutes. · The settle. Thirty seconds, feet on the floor, one breath. Offered, not required. · The questions. Pick from them. Never run them all. · A taste. Ten minutes, built from their question where there is one. · The out, inside the taste. · The close. Then: "you don't have to decide anything today."

About 45 minutes. Shorter is fine. The learner ends it whenever they want.

How to ask

One question, then stop. Count to five before you say anything else. Do not stack examples onto a question: the examples are you answering it for them, and a sixteen-year-old hears that as the adult being nervous. "I don't know" is a complete answer, and so is a shrug.

The groups, one anchor each

	Anchor question
Opening	What did your family tell you this is? What do you think it is?
Why here	Is there anything you would miss?
A live question	What can't you stop thinking about?
Nobody made you	What have you learned that nobody made you learn?
Saying no	When was an adult wrong and you knew it?
People, alone	Six or seven people, one room, three years. What's good about that? What's hard?
Rest	What do you do when nothing is required of you?
Your own mornings	Mondays and Wednesdays are yours. What would you do with them?
How you work	What helps you learn? What gets in the way?
Close	What haven't I asked that you wish I had?

The out

Somewhere inside the taste, hand them something to decline:

> "Here's a part of this you can say no to right now, and I'd like to see you do it if it isn't yours."

Back of the card: the signs. Yes, no, or not seen. No numbers. Never ranked.

#	Sign	Y / N / not seen	One sentence of what was seen
1	A live question, or a thing already in motion
2	Something done that nobody required
3	Can say no to an adult
4	Can be witnessed, and can witness
5	A relationship to rest
6	A family that can hold the covenant
7	Access needs the room can hold, or warmly refer
8	The learner's own yes (a week later, alone)

Watch for: sign 1 is not "knows what they want." Sign 2 is not a resume. Sign 3 is not charm or the fast yes. Sign 4 is not confidence or volume; the quiet witness counts fully. Sign 5 is not a full calendar. Sign 6 is not a family that agrees fast.
